Byrd Pledges Non-Political Investigation

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) pledged today that a Senate investigation of the country's financial condition will be "strictly non-political."

Byrd said he intends to direct the study by his Senate Finance Committee to rising interest rates, revenues, credit, taxes and public and private debts.

The committee voted unanimously yesterday to begin its broad scale inquiry. Byrd said the study will begin as soon as a staff can be assembled.

Some Democratic committee members said privately the inquiry would center on what they call the Eisenhower administration's "tight money" policies. The policy of increasing interest rates as an anti-inflation measure already is under heavy Democratic fire.

These committee Democrats also described the forthcoming investigation as an answer to President Eisenhower's proposal for establishment of an independent commission to study monetary and fiscal policies. So far, the President's plan has gotten nowhere in Congress.

Byrd said "we are going right down the line with an investigation of interest rates, taxes, debts and other matters," adding:

"So far as I can make it out, it will be strictly non-political."

Republican members of the finance group voiced confidence that any investigation run by Byrd would be "objective."

GSA Suspends Plan to Sell Arkansas Land

WASHINGTON (AP) — The General Services Administration today suspended plans to sell the 4,000-acre Holla Bend tract in Pope County, Ark., GSA said it wants to investigate the possibility of the tract being used as a goose refuge.

The agency notified Rep. Hays (D-Ark.) that it is holding up plans to sell the surplus federal land at auction to private bidders while it discusses the matter with the Fish and Wildlife Service.

Hays had asked GSA to reconsider its decision to dispose of the land. The agency originally decided the land could best be utilized for agricultural purposes.

After the decision, however, the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission and many sportsmen in the state protested, contending the area was ideally suited for a goose refuge.

In a letter to Hays, GSA Administrator Franklin G. Floete said that under existing laws and regulations GSA may not turn the property over to the Fish and Wildlife Service but is allowed to sell it to the service at a fair market price.

Teenagers to Trial at Clarksville

CLARKSVILLE (AP) — Six hundred persons jammed a courtroom here today for the mass trial of 20 teen-aged boys charged with petty crimes.

The youths were arrested after a wave of juvenile crimes such as stealing car hub caps and other accessories and minor burglaries. The charges ranged from petty larceny to grand larceny.

The trial was held before Municipal Judge Homer Covington. At 10 o'clock curfew for boys and girls on most nights of the week was ordered to start tonight. The City Council, which issued the order yesterday, said it resulted from a wave of juvenile delinquency.

On nights when there is no school day following, the curfew will go into effect at 10:30. Sheriff Robert Hardwick, who arrested the 20 boys who faced trial today, said a large number of youths have been questioned in Johnson County. He said he was "not through yet."

$225 Million Welfare Plan Is Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Welfare Department today proposed a $225-million-dollar program to help medical and dental schools build more research and teaching facilities.

It announced it was asking Congress to authorize a five-year program of grants in place of a three-year, 90-million-dollar program approved by Congress last year for health research facilities alone.

In voting the three-year program, Congress rejected a 1950 administration proposal for a five-year, 250-million-dollar program covering both teaching and research construction.

Secretary of Welfare, Folsom said that under the new proposal 135 million dollars would be earmarked for medical facilities and 30 million for dental facilities. Recipients of grants would have to match the federal aid 50-50.

It is proposed that schools of medicine, including osteopathy and public health, and schools of dentistry could use the federal aid for construction of both types of facilities.

Grants to other institutions could be used only for research facilities.

Folsom said the need for medical research scientists, physicians, dentists and other skilled personnel in the health fields is increasing faster than the capacity of medical schools to train them.

Youth Falls From Tree, Badly Hurt

MAGNOLIA (AP) — A 17-year-old injured school senior was critically injured yesterday when he fell from a tree to the ground. Hospital attendants said today the youths mechanics for survival were slim.

Companions said Bobbie Joe Johnson son of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Johnson of Magnolia, fell from the tree while on a squirrel trapping expedition in woods about a mile south of town.

Physicians said the youths suffered multiple injuries, including a broken back, fractured in two places — fractured ribs and a broken arm.

Johnson had been hunting squirrels, to be kept as pets, with his 15-year-old brother Larry and Bill Tuberville, 15.

Following the accident, Larry Johnson walked to U. S. Highway 79 and hitchhiked to town for help. The injured youth was brought to a hospital here in the fire Department's rescue truck.

Gravediggers Recover Old U. S. Coins

POCAHONTAS (AP) — A cache of old U. S. coins, possibly hidden from Civil War armies, has been uncovered by three Randolph County grave diggers.

Virgil Chester, Bruce Mitchell and Daley Rickman said they found the coins, which dated as far back as 1834, under a rock while digging a grave in a cemetery about 10 miles west of here.

They said they sold them for $75 to Joe Martin, a Pocahontas coin collector.

The cache included seven half-dimes dating from 1834 to 1860, one 3-cent piece dated 1862, one 1853 dime, five quarters dated from 1842 to 1856, one $10 gold piece dated 1851 and one $20 gold piece dated 1852.

Clarksville Sets 10 p. m. Curfew

CLARKSVILLE (AP) — A 10 p. m. curfew for teenagers—set by the City Council after a wave of petty crime—goes into effect here tomorrow.

Authorities have questioned more than 60 boys in Johnson County within the last few weeks in regard to auto-stripping and petty burglaries.

Sheriff Robert Hardwick said that he had arrested "more than 20 teen-age boys — and I am not through yet."

A mass trial of the youths will be held tomorrow.

Most are misdemeanor cases, although there are some charges of grand larceny.

The curfew was requested by city and county officers.

Prejudices of the Plato of Pavement

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Drickly prejudices of a Pavement Plato:

You can't trust a man who never has a dog around his house except the breed currently in fashion.

You can't trust any woman who will get rid of a cat just before it's about to deliver kittens.

The only perfect surprise is to inherit money from a perfect stranger.

The most dangerous thing in the world is a small mind in the grip of a big idea.

There is no such thing as a born housewife; it takes the best years of a man's life to train one properly.

Education reaches its peak for most students in the kindergarten — from then on they memorize more than they discover.

The man who marries for money pays the highest of all income taxes.

Gossip never worries a saint—but it's what a deaf woman misses most in life.

Loving parents cannot cure pomposity in a teenager half so well as God does with a pimple.

Nobody knows how small the world really is more than a man who tries to keep up a home and a love nest in the same town.

Show me a guy who puts on rubbers and grabs for an umbrella at the first sign of a cloud in the sky, and I'll show you a guy with a secret passion for buying wildcat oil stock.

It is possible to admire anyone who prides himself that he never asks a favor; what's impossible is to like him.

No man who hates himself can find lasting satisfaction in all the world outside him.

U. N. Says Its Mission Is Accomplished

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The U. N. says its Suez Canal clearance mission has accomplished the task for less than 11 million dollars—about one quarter of earlier unofficial estimates of the cost.

The U.N.'s 14th and final weekly progress report on the operation said the 103-mile waterway is "clear for the passage of vessels up to a draft of 33 feet."

It said the operation would be finished this weekend when U. N. salvage crews remove from Port Said harbor a bucket dredger, last of more than 40 obstructions that clogged the channel.

The report said cost of the operation was covered by loans from 10 member countries whose governments have deposited to the U.N.'s account advances totaling $10,822,000. The previous unofficial estimates had placed the clearance costs as high as 40 million dollars.

After this weekend's cleanup, the U.N. salvage fleet of 32 ships from 7 countries will begin to disperse.

The canal had its busiest day yesterday since it was blocked last fall. Fourteen ships passed through in a convoy from Port Said. One vessel entered from Suez.

Meantime, Britain's Prime Minister Macmillan told a Conservative rally in Ayr, Scotland, Egypt must win the confidence of Suez Canal users or face financial difficulties in running the waterway.

Macmillan declared no satisfactory solution of the long-term problem can be reached except on the basis of recommendations last October by the U. N. Security Council.

The council's plan included guarantees of freedom of navigation through the waterway and its insulation from politics.

The New York Times in a dispatch from Cairo said today the United States has reportedly assured Egypt no more U. S. vessels will go to Egypt while the two countries are negotiating on the Suez Canal.

The State Department said in Washington it knew of no development to support the Cairo report.

Fast Travel of Today Is Amazing

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor
LISBON (AP) — It's a little frightening to jump from one world to another between teatime and bedtime — and then to find the sun coming up in Portugal at the time you would be getting home from an evening party in New York.

Its amazing to leave New York in the aftermath of a snowstorm and have breakfast overlooking manicured gardens full of climbing geraniums and palm trees, with a white sand beach and a blue sea just beyond.

It's startling to walk down narrow, winding streets bordered by walled gardens and see no traffic jams, hear no honking taxis, know that you have time to stroll. It's an experience strictly of today, when high speed air travel can whisk you halfway across the world between sundown and sunrise.

Missing a night's sleep doesn't seem to matter in circumstances such as these. Who wants to waste time sleeping when you can sit in the sun and watch the breakers roll in on a glistening beach, marvel at the cleanliness of a country where they even sweep the grass, and breathe the fragrance of a million flowers.

The first two days of this whirlwind tour of Europe I am spending at Estoril, a beautiful little seaside resort 30 minutes from Lisbon. What matter if the elevator in the hotel is erratic, and you sometimes have to walk up five flights of stairs. Who cares if the bathrooms are antique and the furnishings early Grand Rapids?

The sidewalks are all mosaics. The houses are a panorama of pastel stucco and red tile roofs, there are little ancient chapels on every hand, and the street signs are blue-and-white ceramic tile, set into the high stone walls.

There's a castle, complete with turrets and battlements, just beyond the souvenir stands on the beach. An old man and his wife walk briskly up the middle of a steep street gaily between them a hand-woven basket filled with the week's food supply. Everybody shuts up shop at one o'clock and goes home for lunch and a siesta until three.

In one day in Portugal you lose that frantic feeling of racing against time which is the great American malady. In Portugal nobody is in a hurry. Here they consider it important to take time to enjoy life.

Soil Bank Subject to Rotary Meet

Cecil Guthrie of the local ASC office brought Friday's Rotary program. Mr. Guthrie spoke on the Soil Bank and its good and bad effects on our local economy.

Guests of the club included Roy Goodwater of Salem, Oregon, Rufus Dildy Nashville and Dobbin Taylor Hamburg.

Farmers Can Get Cost Shore Aid

Farmers can receive cost share assistance through the Agricultural Conservation Program for performing ACP practices on their land while it is in the Soil Bank, according to H. B. Gilbert, Chairman of the Hempstead County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Applications are now being received for the 1957 ACP Program at the local ASC office. All farmers are invited to participate and all applications will receive equal consideration, Mr. Gilbert said.

Requests for federal cost sharing must be filed with the county committee before any practice is started.

The federal allocation for cost sharing under the 1957 ACP Program in Hempstead county is $67465.

Any ACP practice is eligible for approval on land in the Acreage Reserve of the Soil Bank but "no grazing" and "no harvesting" provisions of the Soil Bank must be met.

Any ACP practices for which cost sharing is not authorized under the Conservation Reserve of the Soil Bank, may also be carried out on Conservation Reserve land and is eligible for approval for cost sharing under the ACP program Conservation Reserve cost sharing practices for Hempstead County are:

1. Establishment of permanent vegetative cover including Fescue, Dallis, Bermuda grass, Ladino or White clovers and Lespedeza Sericea.

2. Initial treatment of farmland by liming to permit use of Legumes and grasses.

3. Establishment of a cover of trees.

4. Constructing ponds as a means of protecting vegetative cover.

5. Constructing irrigation dams for irrigation water.

6. Construction of pond for fish and wild life.

7. Establishment of vegetative cover for winter protection, including vetch, peas, crimson clover, ryegrass and small grains.

The above practices (except wildlife practices) are also included in the ACP Program and in addition, ACP includes the following practices:

1. Establishment of a permanent vegetative cover including bermuda, Fescue, Dallis, Ladino, White Dutch clover, annual lespedeza, Sericea, Alfalfa and sweet clover.

2. Liming farmland to permit use of legumes and grasses.

3. Planting forest trees.

4. Developing springs and seeps for livestock water.

5. Constructing stock ponds and irrigation dams.

6. Improving a stand of forest trees.

7. Constructing terraces and drainage ditches.

These programs offer a real opportunity to strengthen the county's agriculture," Mr. Gilbert said, "and we urge all farmers to discuss in the county ASC office and discuss them with the county office staff or any county or community ASC committeemen and determine which practices are best suited for their farm."

Driver Ran Away in Murder Car

LANSDALE, Pa. (AP) — An 11-year-old girl told state police yesterday the driver of a car that killed her 7-year-old brother jumped back in the vehicle and sped away when she called to him for help.

Police say the two, Betty Jean and Richard Kerns, were walking along a road to a Bible class at a neighbors home. Betty Jean said she saw the car coming, shouted to her brother and jumped into a ditch. The auto hit Richard and hurled him off the road.

The driver stopped for a few moments, then fled, Betty Jean said, when she called for his aid. She ran home for help.

Tax Time Brings Strange Incidents

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON — You think you hate income tax troubles! A would-be taxpayer walked into a federal building, got off the elevator at the wrong floor, saw a lot of men filling out forms, who handed some himself, filled them out and turned them in.

"I still don't see what this has to do with filling out my tax return," he said. It didn't. He had just taken, and passed, an examination for building guard.

That comes from the Internal Revenue Service here. Every year about this time — income tax deadline is April 15 — it receives from its collectors around the country stories of the problems they — and the taxpayers — have.

This is the time when people, along with their returns, send in old shirts and pants, saying: "You've taken everything else, you may as well have this too."

The revenue service reports these events too:

On woman pulled a witch on the shirts-and-pants gifts. She sent in a lock of her hair with a brief note: "I've just been scolded."

One lady paid her tax and waited. The cashier said: "That's all. She said: 'Where are my green stamps. He was too stunned to answer. But she said: 'Everybody gives green stamps nowadays. Its about time you people woke up.'"

Another woman tried to deduct as a medical expense the price she paid for a Chihuahua puppy. A neighbor had told her having such a dog around might cure her asthma. And, after the dog arrived, her asthma improved.

One man asked by the revenue service to verify a big dental expense, sent back his false teeth with a note:

"After buying these plates I gained so much weight the doctor told me to go on a diet. By sending them to you as proof of my claim, I hope to solve two problems at the same time."

The revenue service also reports there have been cases where people tried to cash their W-2 withholding receipt, or visited the collectors offices to borrow money, cash checks, or get help making out their wills.

One taxpayer, receiving a bill for additional tax, wrote back: "I got married today — leaving for honeymoon — gone one week — hope you can wait — can't."

Another taxpayer enclosed his return and his tax with a note which said:

"I'm sorry I can't give you my address I'm living in a box car. And they move the damned thing every morning."

P. S. He didn't know it, since he couldn't be reached, but he had overpaid his tax and was due a refund.

Hole in Yard Is Only Sure Thing Known

SAN GABRIEL, Calif. (AP) — One fact emerged today amid the debris and confusion at the Oscar Murphy home: there is a 15-foot hole in the back yard.

That's about all that is certain after two days of strenuous digging activity by Army Ordnance crews.

The Army, without ever quite knowing what it was looking for, yesterday called off the search that began Tuesday when the Murphy's 10-year-old son, Pat, found a strange hole two feet deep behind the house.

Shortly before the hole was discovered residents of suburban San Gabriel and surrounding communities had been jarred by a deafening blast, apparently caused by a jet plane breaking the sonic barrier.

While Air Force intelligence officers maintained a knowing, tight-lipped silence, Army demolition experts ripped up the Murphys patio and clothes line poles, When the two-foot hole had been dug a pit 7-by-7-1/2 feet and only a broken baby carriage had been unearthed, the digging was halted.

"If there's anything down here, it won't hurt anything if it does explode, said one officer.

The hole is being filled in today. The patio and the clothes line poles are being restored.

Mail Service Extinct in Hope Today

By JACK ADAMS

WASHINGTON (AP) — There were no regular mail deliveries today and most post offices were closed for the weekend. But it looked as though service would be returned to normal soon.

Postmaster General Summerfield said late yesterday he has Postmaster Robert Wilson wishes to remind the patrons of the Hope post office of that part of the Postmaster General's order of April 5 which affects window service, at all post offices Monday, April 15, through Friday, April 19. That is, that a maximum of eight and one-half hours service be given at each window. On the five days the general delivery, stamp and parcel post windows will be open from 8:30 a. m. until 5:00 p. m. The money order and postal savings window will continue, as in the past, to be open from 8:00 a. m. until 5:00 p. m. Full delivery of mail will be resumed Monday, April 15, and the entire force at the post office wishes to express its appreciation to the people of Hope for the cooperative spirit which they are showing during this period of curtailment of service.

"no choice" but to go ahead with service cutbacks even though the House Appropriations Committee has recommended an extra 41 million dollars to maintain normal postal operations through June.

He said the reductions "must go into effect as scheduled so that the department legally operates within the funds actually appropriated."

Under the first stage of Summerfield's order, Saturday mail delivery has been halted throughout the country. The only mail being delivered are those bearing special delivery stamps. Also, service windows in most of the nation's 38,000 post offices remained closed. The only ones open were rural area fourth class post offices, staffed generally by storekeepers. Newspapers are included in the ban on mail delivery.

Other service curtailments are scheduled to take effect later. After the committee acted yesterday, despite the grumbling of some of its members, Summerfield rested his position that mail service reductions can be canceled only when enough additional money "actually becomes available"—that is, after the bill has cleared Congress and has been signed by President Eisenhower.

The House is scheduled to consider the committee's recommendation Monday and the Senate is expected to act soon afterward. Thus it appeared likely Summerfield might get his money by the end of next week.

Summerfield asked for 47 million dollars beyond the two billion-plus Congress voted last year to run his department during this fiscal year.

He said his request for supplemental funds for the next 2 1/2 months grew out of an unexpectedly large mail volume, the need to serve spreading residential areas and a postal pay increase.

But his critics in Congress contend the present situation results from overspending of postal appropriations in the first three quarters of the year.

Earlier in the week, Summerfield told a Senate committee that if he got 41 millions, the word cancel all the service cutbacks he could. But yesterday, he indicated he is hopeful of getting the full 47 millions.

He said in a statement: "I am hopeful that next week the Congress will provide the department with all the funds it requires so that the mail service may be restored."

Some committee members said the six millions trimmed from Summerfields request was earmarked for equipment purchases which they contended could be "deferred or eliminated."

lotments during each month, there shall first be made the full monthly allotment to the Public School Fund before any other allotments are made, and if there is not sufficient general revenues for allocation available during any month to make the maximum monthly allotments to all of the respective funds, other than the Public School Fund, shall be pro rata reduced without any reduction being made in the Public School Fund.

The bill, if signed into law, apparently would have guaranteed the Public School Funds, and therefore, the teachers whose state aid comes from the Fund, $2,000,000 from the first $67,300,000 of general revenues for distribution each fiscal year and given the Fund first call on $12,000,000 of the next $21,940,000 in general revenues for distribution.

Governor Faubus vetoed the bill March 28. Only the County and Municipal Air Funds now have a guaranteed allotment—$4,000,000 annually—under the Revenue Stabilization Law. All other funds participating in general revenues are subject to pro rata reduction if general revenues do not reach the levels anticipated.

LITTLE ROCK, (Special) Increases that added an estimated $2,154,995 to Arkansas utility customers' bills annually were approved by the Public Service Commission in 1956. This brought to more than $9,600,000 the utility rate increases granted during the past two years.

No new adjustments were made for Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co., which with Fort Smith Gas Co. benefited most from the 1955 raises. Two rate changes in 1956 added $7,000,000 a year to Ark-La revenues.

The only other electric utility affected by an adjustment was Southwestern Gas and Electric Co., which netted $12,000 from an approved charge.

Arkansas Western Gas Co. was authorized to collect $388,787 more from its customers, with $353,291 to come from residential and commercial consumers. Basis for the increase was the "field price" theory that the Arkansas Supreme Court later voided, and the General Assembly then sanctioned.

Others for whom rate increases were approved in 1956 were: West Arkansas Telephone Co., $14,600; Batesville Water Co., $17,880; and the following telephone companies in Arkansas: Associated 37,343; Boone County 339,650; Cleveland County 33,453; De Queen 18,363; General Telephone Co. of Southwestern 11,500; Hampton 2,737; Jasper 7,750; Lincoln-Desha 1,651; Mountain Home 5,171; Okolona, 3,014; Perry County 7,788; Siloam Springs 15,751; Western Arkansas a total of 151,742 for telephone companies.

Pending before the Commission at year end were applications of two W. R. Stephens-dominated gas companies for increased rates. Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. is seeking to gain approval of a new commercial schedule carrying a five cents per MCF charge for firm service. Fort Smith Gas Corp. has submitted, and is collecting under bond, higher industrial rates.

Protests have been filed against both gas companies' proposals.

LITTLE ROCK, April 11 (Special)—Scheduled for early submission to the Arkansas Supreme Court—probably April 20—is the appeal of the St. Louis-San Francisco Railway Co. from the Pulaski Circuit Court in a suit involving the Public Service Commission's methods of assessing utilities.

It's a sort of test case, in that all other major railroads have given notice to the PSC of appeals from the 1956 assessments. The Frisco's 1955 assessment is the issue in the appeal that has reached the Supreme Court. The Kansas City Southern Railway Co. also appealed from the PSC to Circuit Court.

The PSC has through its Tax Division.

Fidelis Class Has Social Meeting

Arrangements of spring flowers decorated the home of Mrs. Bud Vandiver on Tuesday evening when she was hostess to the Fidelis Class of the First Baptist Church.

Mrs. E. A. Evans, president, conducted the business. The devotional, from Matthew 27th chapter, was given by Mrs. Vandiver.

vision assessed utilities on a 20 per cent. of market value bases. Gas and electric utilities can easily recover whatever taxes they pay through rate adjustments; it's not so simple for big railroads to fit their rates into a local tax situation. Hence, they are the aggressors in the tax protests.

In support of their contention that, while they are paying taxes on 20 per cent. valuations, property generally is assessed on average of 12.32 per cent in the state, they attempted to have the Circuit Court review the assessment ratio study of real estate sales and tax valuations which the Missouri-Arkansas Tax Representatives Association has made annually for the past seven years.

The lower court held the study inadmissible, but it figures largely in the testimony nonetheless. Importance of the litigation may be deduced from remarks made by John R. Thompson, then PSC counsel and now a member, at a conference in the governor's office February 12, when initial steps were taken to divorce the Tax Division and the Assessment Co-ordination Division from the PSC. Beginning July 1, the Assessment Co-ordination Department will take over the assessment chores.

Mr. Thompson told a group of legislators: "The railroads have always been trying to make their theory of the ratio study stand up and as attorney for the Commission I have been trying to break it down. They contend they are assessed unequally because the real estate over the state is not assessed at 20 per cent of its true value, therefore their assessments should be lower."

Referring to the Frisco appeal in the Supreme Court, Senator James P. Baker of Helena inquired: "What would be the effect if the railroads prevailed?"

Mrs. Thompson replied "It would cause them to pay about $200,000 less. If they prevail, it means all other railroads would prevail. The Missouri-Arkansas Tax Representatives Association ratio study findings with respect to Missouri are adopted as the correct ratio by the Missouri Tax Commission, but the Arkansas Commission's disposition is to ignore it, and the new Assessment Co-ordination Department also will pay little or no heed to it. That was made clear by W. L. Hinton, Assessment Co-ordination Division director, at the February 12 meeting. He minimized the reliability of ratio studies, and his viewpoint was written into the law creating the new department.

It won't be required to make an assessment ratio study, although prime objective of the 1955 net establishing the Division. Hinton, as witness in the Circuit Court in the Frisco case, said that his Division would have to complete a ratio study by 1957.

If it made such a study, the public has not had a report on it, and the General Assembly did not even ask for a report. Hinton admitted in Circuit Court that the Division's findings would approximate those of the Tax Representatives Association.

By the time the Division becomes a Department, the Supreme Court will have passed on the railroad appeal. Its decision may constitute even more of a guide for the new Department than the statutes.

Games were conducted by Mrs. Harrell Hines and Mrs. Kenneth Reeves.

The hostess served pie and coffee.

News Briefs

DEREHAM, England, (UP) — The 99th accident to be reported to the local police division was reported here April 9. Constable number nine reported the accident at a map reference point starting at 999.

NORFOLK, England, (UP) — Sixteen workmen were alive today because they came in out of the rain.

The men were working on a picnic beach when a sudden squall sent them scurrying for shelter behind some steel sheets. Two companions dashed toward a nearby bulldozer. As they reached it, a hidden World War II anti-tank mine exploded and killed them instantly.

Republic of San Marino, (UP) — Italian university students who captured the flag of this 1,600-year-old Republic Wednesday demanded a decoration today as the price of returning it.

The students drove to the 33-square-mile mountain-top republic in a bus, overpowered the guards, stormed the government palace and made off with the flag. Other students stole the republic's artillery last year.

LONDON, (UP) — The Fulwell and District Working Men's club, founded in 1902 for the "mental and moral improvement of its members," has been removed from the list of licensed clubs for six months.

The reason: gambling on the premises and abuse of its liquor license.

DOROTHY DIX

Last Summer's Beau May Have New Interest Now

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm in a spot. I'm dating two boys here in town, corresponding with two others in different branches of services. However, the boy I really care about is Rex, whom I met on vacation last summer, and haven't seen since. I spent the summer on a ranch where he worked. I know he liked me, but he's written only one letter in all these months. I'll probably be back on the ranch this June. Do you think it's worth hoping?

LAURA

Dear Laura: Your activities are certainly normal for a teenager, though somewhat more varied than most girls enjoy. Of course, I can't guarantee Rex's interest; don't expect too much. He may have acquired another heart throb in the course of a year, or he may be constitutionally shy of possible entanglements. You'd be wiser to cultivate interests nearer home.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Should I put up with my boy friend's attentions to my mother and sister? When he's around the rest of the family, I get hurt, jealous and angry.

OLIVIA

Dear Olivia: Very unbecomingly, all of them. Your friend is trying to be pleasant and establish a good relationship, which will benefit you, as well as him. Be cooperative, not obstructive.

Dear Dorothy Dix: We are moving into a new community, which means I will have to change schools. How can I make friends the first day?

Dear Desperate: Can't be done. You can make a good impression the first day by dressing simply, not showing off, and not making comparisons with your old school. Friendship, however, comes slowly and requires work.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I hastily agreed to go steady again with this boy. I broke up with three weeks ago. Two nights later I decided I wasn't ready to go steady. He left angrily and is now working out of the state. How do I get him back? I miss him.

ROCHELLE

Dear Rochelle: You only want him back so you can discard him again. Let the poor guy have some peace.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm a bachelor of 65, very much in love with a divorcee who has two sons, 20 and 22. I want to marry her but she feels that she cannot desert the boys. I think they're old enough to be on their own. I like them, but certainly don't them to live with me.

Dear Jack: My advice is, to the divorcee. Not you. Ditch this guy! Losing two men to gain one isn't logical. Stick with your sons; they'll be far more satisfaction than a grumpy, selfish stick-in-the-mud husband.

PROFESSIONAL CAREER

Men's Clothing Trend Blamed on Television

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) - A fellow shopping in a clothing store recently complained to the salesman about the dark conservatism of men's suits these days. The salesman had one word of explanation: "Television."

Come to think of it, that salesman had a point. The commercial hucksters and quiz masters of television may be working a dark and subtle influence on even the clothing we wear, gentlemen.

There is a basic technical reason for dark suits on the home screen. They look better on camera. For some magical reason it even makes a man look thinner.

Well, this may be fine on television. But why carry it off the screen into the living room and the office? Why do so many wives put their husbands to dress like

Hal March? Television can carry this regimentation too far.

It is the basic right of a man to look like an unmade bed if he wants to. Or to wear a red vest to the office if he wants to. We are scared, men, we're yellow.

After an evening of watching smoothly and conservatively talloored men on television he rises in the morning and try to emulate them.

It is a pleasure, therefore, to report a few holes appearing in the television conservative suit front.

Dave Garraway should have received an Emmy award for resisting regimentation in the suit department. He wears what he pleases.

John Cameron Swayze, who used to dress as if he were going to pass the collection plate, has been more relaxed in his dress recently.

And let's not forget Bob Hope.
